Installation hardware available immediately if the barn/home is under construction.

Delivery time for the weathervane is approx. 12 weeks.

Custom design orders are welcome including a specific polo pony or player, team or farm logo, saddle blanket, etc.

One of our most popular horse weathervane designs, this Polo Player weathervane design can be found as far away as Perth, Australia and Bogota, Colombia, as well as in many locations across the United States. Optional gold leaf works very well with this weathervane, helping to set off many of the intricate details such as the tail wrappings, saddle blanket, leg wraps, and reins. The second enclosed image features a custom saddle blanket: you will see this particular customer had us put his initials on the blanket itself. One customer who is himself a polo player, also ordered one of our jumping horse weathervanes with a female rider for his second cupola as his wife is also an accomplished equestrian. That way both their passions are represented on their new barn.
